ROOD REVIEW

UNDERSTANDING THE MIKVEH

DEAR TORAH FAN

The middle of this month marks the anniversary of Yeshua's so-called "baptism" or mikveh in the Jordan. The mikveh is much more symbolic than the baptism of the modern church. But to understand what it truly means, we must return to the time and place it originated: the Red Sea crossing.

The Israelites had been in bondage in Egypt for over 200 years. They were led out of Egypt as a mixed multitude, including Egyptians. When they walked out of Egypt, "Egypt" was still in them. They had been immersed in the culture their entire lives. This journey to Sinai was YeHoVaH's way of preparing the people to be His people alone and to leave behind Egypt both physically and spiritually.

The preparation of the Israelites was no easy task. They spent seven weeks in the wilderness leading up to Shavuot at Mount Sinai. By the time the seven weeks were over, YeHoVaH would have given them the lessons they needed to decide if they wanted to be His people and follow His commandments to become a "nation of priests." And there, at Sinai, the covenant would be sealed by blood.

In this first test and lesson on the way to that momentous day, the people would experience the undeniable power of the Almighty in a miracle so spectacular, even the Egyptians would know that He is YeHoVaH, and He is the One True God. The Red Sea crossing was their mikveh; it was a symbol of a new start. As the Israelites were mikveh-ed (baptized) in the Red Sea, they left behind their old life in Egypt and started a new life, walking with the Redeemer, just as we all do when we are mikveh-ed in Messiah today.

When you stop to understand the mikveh, it will not only open your eyes to the culture and context of the Bible, but it will open your understanding of the Messiah and your relationship with him. Our Gentile notion of baptism is so far removed from what the mikveh really is and what it really means, that we in the Western world are missing out on one of the foundations of our faith.

Passover: The Red Sea Crossing 2020, April 10-12 offers an opportunity to take part in this ancient practice. Regardless of your maturity in the faith, starting anew never gets old. I would be honored to perform this ceremony with you to usher you into your next great adventure as a servant of the Most High.

See you at Passover,

Michael Rood

WE'VE MOVED...

Way back when, your TV had rabbit ears. Then you moved on to cable TV, and maybe even to satellite TV. Today, the world has moved on from cable and satellite to streaming services... and so have we!

Instead of broadcasting on cable or satellite, we're now streaming Michael Rood's teachings, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week – but don't worry, you can still watch Michael on your regular TV! All you have to do is switch out your cable or satellite box for an Apple TV device, Amazon Firestick, or Roku device.

Plug in any of these streaming devices to your regular TV (or search for the "Michael Rood" app on a smart TV) to watch all your favorites and weekly new episodes from Michael Rood! You can even watch on-the-go using the Michael Rood app on your iPhone, iPad, or Android device.

Plus, the video quality on streaming television is much better than cable or satellite and you can watch any of Michael's programs whenever you want, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week!

Thanks for watching... and thank you for your donations. We can't stream without you!
